

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE
METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR WASTE OIL MANAGEMENT

5 A new and improved waste oil management system is described herein. A remote storage tank, with a control panel and a pumping mechanism is connected to a fryer via metal tubing. The used oil is pumped from the fryer directly to the storage tank. In another embodiment of the system, a storage caddy, equipped with a filtration system, is used to transport the used oil from the fryer to the storage tank.